WHAT'S THE HOP?

TEST YOUR SENSORY EVALUATION SKILLS!

The Brewers Anonymous beer "WTH" is brewed with a single hop for bittering, flavor, and aroma. The hop used is one of the choices listed below. Can your senses determine which hop was used to brew "WTH"?

(Scratch off the silver box next to the hop name to see if you're right!)

Sabro Profile: Citrus, Coconut, Herbal, Stone Fruit, Tropical. Sabro is an aroma hop that is notable for its complexity of fruity and citrus flavors. It imparts distinct tangerine, coconut, tropical fruit, and stone fruit aromas, with hints of cedar, mint, and cream.	Centennial Profile: Floral, Lemon, Orange, Tropical, Woody. Centennial is incredibly well-rounded and useful for bittering, flavor, aroma, and dry-hopping. It quickly developed the nickname Super Cascade for its vibrant citrus and soft pine characteristics.
Idaho 7 Profile: Citrus, Grapefruit, Stone Fruit, Tropical. Idaho 7 is ripe with zesty tangerine flavor that is reminiscent of marmalade. Its uniqueness shows up as a pleasant herbal character that melds with the citrus to come across like fine earl grey tea.	Simcoe Profile: Citrus, Grapefruit, Stone Fruit, Tropical, Woody. Simcoe has great bittering qualities, but also packs a complex aroma of stone fruit, pine, and citrus zest. It truly is a dual purpose hop capable of standing on its own in single-hopped beers.

Brewer's Bash

The background features a large, faint, grey watermark. It consists of a stylized mask with closed eyes and a wide, toothy grin. Behind the mask, two crossed tools, possibly hoes or similar agricultural implements, are visible. The tools have long handles and rectangular heads with a grid-like pattern.
